

McKenna Snyder
Period 4
Mrs. Pascoe

A profession that applies to many,
They make sure your meals are full and plenty.

Never straying too far,
They check in with you, and offer salad bar!
They take orders, names, and personalities,
Always showing the up most hospitality.

Some days aren't as easy as others,
They seat you and ask "more water?"
Oh sometimes how hectic it can be
To please a customer, like you or me.

Some days they run around lost,
Like a chicken with its head cut off.
Just to make sure the cook puts cheese on your fries,
No they never want you to be dissatisfied!

Handling a table of 12,
Could you do that well?
Smiling no matter what,
They put more coffee in your cup.
Their aprons full of change and slips,
Never forget to leave your waitress a tip!
